Account of the famous PONDIAC, or PONTEACK, the preſent Emperor of the Indians on the Lakes.

From Major ROGERS's Account of North-America.

THE Indians on the Lakes are generally at Peace with one another, having a wide extended and fruitful Country in their Poſſeſſion. They are formed into a Sort of Empire, and the Emperor is elected from the eldeſt Tribe, which is the Ottawas, ſome of whom inhabit near our Fort at Detroit, but are moſtly further Weſtward towards the Miſſiſippi.—Ponteack is their preſent King or Emperor, who has certainly the largeſt Empire and greateſt Authority of any Indian Chief that has appeared on the Continent ſince our Acquaintance with it.——He puts on an Air of Majeſty and princely Grandeur, and is greatly honoured and revered by his Subjects. He not long ſince formed a Deſign of uniting all the Indian Nations together under his Authority, but miſcarried in the Attempt.

In the Year 1760, when I commanded and marched the firſt Detachment into this Country that was ever ſent there by the Engliſh, I was met in my Way by an Embaſſy from him, of ſome of his Warriors, and ſome of the Chiefs of the Tribes that are under him; the Purport of which was, to let me know, that Ponteack was at a ſmall Diſtance, coming peaceably, and that he deſired me to halt my Detachment till ſuch Time as he could ſee me with his own Eyes. His Ambaſſadors had alſo Orders to inform me, that he was Ponteack, the King and Lord of the Country I was in.

At firſt Salutation when we met, he demanded my Buſineſs into his Country, and how I dared to enter it without his Leave? When I informed him that it was not with any Deſign againſt the Indians that I came, but to remove the French out of his Country, who had been an Obſtacle in our Way to mutual Peace and Commerce, and acquainted him with my Inſtructions for that Purpoſe. I at the ſame Time delivered him ſeveral friendly Meſſages, or Belts of Wampum, which he received, but gave me no other Anſwer than that he ſtood in the Path I travelled in, till next Morning, giving me a ſmall String of Wampum, as much as to ſay, I muſt not march further without his Leave.—— When he departed for the Night, he enquired whether I wanted any Thing that his Country afforded, and that he would ſend his Warriors to fetch it? I aſſured him that any Proviſions they brought ſhould be paid for; and the next Day we were ſupplied by them with ſeveral Bags of parched Corn, and ſome other Neceſſaries. At our ſecond Meeting he gave me the Pipe of Peace, and both of us by Turns ſmoaked with it; and he aſſured me he had made Peace with me and my Detachment; that I might paſs through his Country unmoleſted, and relieve the French Garriſon; and that he would protect me and my Party, from any Inſults that might be offered or intended by the Indians; and, as an Earneſt of his Friendſhip, he ſent one hundred Warriors to protect and aſſiſt us in driving one hundred fat Cattle, which we had brought for the uſe of the Detachment from Pittſburgh, by the Way of Preſque-Iſle. He likewiſe ſent to the ſeveral Indian Towns on the South Side and Weſt End of Lake Erie, to inform them that I had his Conſent to come into the Country. He attended me conſtantly after this Interview, till I arrived at Detroit, and while I remained in the Country, and was the Means of preſerving the Detachment from the Fury of the Indians, who had aſſembled at the Mouth of the Strait, with Intent to cut us off.

I had ſeveral Conferences with him, in which he diſcovered great Strength of Judgment, and Thirſt after Knowlege.——He endeavoured to inform himſelf of our military Order and Diſcipline. He often intimated to me, that he could be content to reign in his Country in Subordination to the King of Great-Britain, and was willing to pay him ſuch annual Acknowledgement as he was able, in Furs, and call him his Uncle. He was curious to know our Methods of manufacturing Cloth, Iron, &c. and expreſſed a great Deſire to ſee England, and offered me a Part of his Country if I would conduct him there. He aſſured me, that he was inclined to live peaceably with the Engliſh while they uſed him as he deſerved, and to encourage their ſettling in his Country; but intimated, that if they treated him with Neglect, he ſhould ſhut up the Way, and exclude them from it; in ſhort, his whole Converſation ſufficiently indicated, that he was far from conſidering himſelf as a conquered Prince, and that he expected to be treated with the Reſpect and Honour due to a King or Emperor, by all who came into his Country, or treated with him.

In 1763, this Indian had the Art and Addreſs to draw a Number of Tribes into a Confederacy, with a Deſign firſt to reduce the Engliſh Forts upon the Lakes, and then make a Peace to his Mind, by which he intended to eſtabliſh himſelf in his imperial Authority; and ſo wiſely were his Meaſures taken, that in fifteen Days Time, he reduced or took ten of our Garriſons, which were all we had in this Country, except Detroit; and had he carried this alſo, nothing was in the Way to complete his Scheme. Some of the Indians left him, and by his Conſent made a ſeparate Peace; but he would not be active or perſonally concerned in it, ſaying, that when he made a Peace, it ſhould be ſuch an one as would be uſeful and honourable to himſelf, and to the King of Great-Britain: But he has not yet propoſed his Terms.

In the Year 1763, when I went to throw Proviſions into the Garriſon at Detroit, I ſent this Indian a Bottle of Brandy by a Frenchman. His Counſellors adviſed him not to taſte it, inſinuating that it was poiſoned, and ſent with a Deſign to kill him; but Ponteack, with a Nobleneſs of Mind, laughed at their Suſpicions, ſaying, it was not in my Power to kill him, who had ſo lately ſaved my Life.

In the late War of his, he appointed a Commiſſary, and began to make Money, or Bills of Credit, which he hath ſince punctually redeemed. His Money was the Figure of what he wanted in Exchange for it, drawn upon Bark, and the Shape of an Otter (his Arms) drawn under it. Were proper Meaſures taken, this Indian might be rendered very ſerviceable to the Britiſh Trade and Settlements in this Country, more extenſively ſo than any one that hath ever been in Alliance with us on this Continent.

To the Printer of the Publick Advertiſer.

WILL the Earl of Chat, as the firſt Teſt of his Credit, procure from the Spaniards the Payment of the Manilla-Bills? This ſeems to me to be the moſt material Affair to be ſettled with Spain, and, if his Demands are immediately complied with, will be a good Proof that our Expectations of his re-eſtabliſhing the Credit of this Country are not ill founded, and I hope will alſo re-eſtabliſh his Lordſhip in the good Opinion he has ſo deſervedly had for theſe late Years.—I have heard that there is ſuch an Advance made towards ſettling finally this Manilla Buſineſs, that there is but little left to inſiſt upon to adjuſt it; and therefore I hope, for the Sake of thoſe concerned, that their Expectations will be fully anſwered.

It is true the Puſillanimity of G——— G—n—le let this Affair drop; nay he even (though ignorant of the State of the Affair) ſupported the Spaniards unjuſt and groundleſs Claims, to the Prejudice of his Countrymen; but it is ſaid, that Mr. C*y has revived the drooping Cauſe, to his great Honour; and has, by his ſpirited Perſeverance, left the noble Earl little to inſiſt upon; it is therefore as little doubted, but that the Spaniards may not much longer heſitate to give the Satisfaction required.——Many thouſand brave Sailors and Soldiers are now in abſolute Want, from the cruel Procraſtination of this Affair, and from their being thus deprived of their juſt Claims; and many Half-Pay Officers are now lamenting their Situation, and draw the moſt mortifying Concluſion that they have, after the Aſſurances given them of reaping the good Effects of the Humanity ſhewed by them to the conquered Spaniards, only the Honour of their paſt Services to conſole themſelves with.—— Surely the noble Earl will not longer delay the Interpoſition of Great-Britain, which muſt procure the Satisfaction due to the brave People at preſent ſo unjuſtly deprived of the well-deſerved Rewards of long and faithful Services.

A Friend to the Diſtreſſed.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

SEVERAL Meſſages were ſent to prevent a late extraordinary Publication, but no Terms would be liſtened to.

THIS Day is ſold, for the Benefit of his Majeſty's Subjects, the only true Court Elixir, or Grand Specific, for the Cure of the Gout To be had of the noted High German Doctor, Baron Van Pynſent, at his Seat near Chatham.

Alſo prepared by the ſame Hand, the Pilula Hurata, or Right Royal Bolus, double gilt, being an admirable Remedy for all Perſons afflicted with a Volubility of Tongue, and of ſovereign Uſe long ſince in curing that feveriſh Diſorder of the Mind, called Patriotiſm.

N. B. Both theſe Remedies are marked with the Doctor's own Privy Seal, and all others who pretend to ſell them muſt be Counterfeits.

WANTED, by a great Perſon, lately advanced to a Peerage, a new Set of Coach Horſes, that are traſtable and eaſy to guide. Scotch Greys will be moſt approved of. Enquire as above.

WE hear, that when all the Wits and Demi-Wits of this great Metropolis have thoroughly vented all their little ſilly Rage and Malevolence againſt the late Great Commoner, (but now Illuſtrious Peer) they will then begin to look into their own honeſt Boſoms; and if they have any Senſe of Feeling for the true Glory and Proſperity of their King and Country, or poſſeſs any Degree of Shame for the Wrong they may commit, they will dread Remorſe, or, at leaſt, bluſh for their precipitate Cenſures and Judgments of ſo great a Character, who ſo often before has been cenſured for Advice and Conduct, that afterwards proved moſt ſalutary and glorious.

GENOA, JULY 12.

THE Prince of Anhalt-Deſſau arrived on Sunday in this City, on his Return from Turin. He has made his Tour of Italy, and is going to the Court of France. A French Tartane, come from Malta to this Port, has brought Advice that four Galliots, Corſairs of Tripoli, have within a few Days taken five Veſſels belonging to the Chriſtians: There are two Neopolitans, two Sicilians, and one Malteſe. The Crew of the laſt was taken Priſoners, but thoſe of the others have ſaved themſelves.

Leghorn, July 14. Our laſt Advices from Corſica declare, that the Malecontents have deſired of the Court of Rome, that the Convent of Clerk's Regulars, and two other Communities, in the interior Parts of the Kingdom, being compoſed of Religious, who are Foreigners, and principally of Genoeſe, that theſe ſhould be recalled, and that Religious belonging to that Nation, or to Rome, ſhould be ſubſtituted in their Stead. But we are aſſured that the Pope has been ſo far from granting this Requeſt, that he threatened them with their no longer enjoying the Protection of the Holy See.

Madrid, July 21. The Body of the late Queen-Mother was conveyed, in great Pomp, to St. Ildephonſo, and interred there on the 17th. It was attended by her whole Houſhold; the principal Perſons of which had afterwards the Honour of kiſſing his Catholick Majeſty's Hand at the Eſcurial, upon his declaring that the Salaries ſhould be continued to all of them during Life. The Obſequies of the Queen-Mother will laſt nine Days; after which the whole Court will remove to St. Ildephonſo.

Turin, July 26. On the 23d Inſtant the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick arrived here in perfect Health.

Notwithſtanding his Serene Highneſs wiſhed to maintain a private Character, it was impoſſible to avoid his being received at Chambery and at Suze, (the two chief Towns thro' which he paſſed) with the Marks of Reſpect and Diſtinction he ſo juſtly merits. His Serene Highneſs was the Morning after his Arrival here, conducted to Court by the Maſter of the Ceremonies, in two of his Sardinian Majeſty's Coaches, and was moſt graciouſly received by the King of Sardinia, the Duke and Dutcheſs of Savoy, and the Reſt of the Royal Family; and was afterwards re-conducted back in the ſame Coaches.

Naples, July 15. The King hath been twice within theſe few Days to viſit the Royal Hoſpital, and examine all the Trades eſtabliſhed therein, both for Men and Women.—— His Majeſty much approves of the Arrangements which have been taken, and we begin to perceive the great Benefit which the Publick will derive from this pious Eſtabliſhment.

In Conſequence of the Commotions in Spain ſome Time ago, Don Jerome Gregorii, Nephew of the Marquis de Squillace, formerly Chief of the Cuſtoms at Cadiz, hath quitted that Kingdom, and is come to this City.

In many Provinces of this Kingdom the Crops of Corn have failed, but more particularly in the Terra di Lavoro, the Province from whence this Capital draws moſt of its Subſiſtance.

Copenhagen, July 26. The Birth-Day of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Caroline was celebrated on Tueſday laſt at the Palace of Frederickſburgh, with every poſſible Demonſtration of Joy and Feſtivity.

Berlin, July 29. Her Royal Highneſs Princeſs Ferdinand, who was ſome Days ago taken ill of the Small-Pox, is now thought to be out of all Danger.

BOSTON, October 6.

Dennis Debert, Esqr writes, that the Address to his Majesty, by the House of Representatives of this Province, on Occasion of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, has been presented by his Grace the Duke of Richmond, and most graciously received; and that it arrived the first of any Addresses upon that happy Event. Also that the Votes of Thanks to the several illustrious Members of both Houses of Parliament, who most eminently distinguished themselves as the Patrons of our Liberty, were very kindly received.

NEW-PORT, October 6.

A Letter from Castle Brew, at Annamaboa, on the Coast of Africa, to a Gentleman in this Town, dated June 20, 1766, says, "Sir, you will be good enough to acquaint the Merchants trading to this Place, that the Coast is very much infested with Pirates, and that one, in particular, is a Schooner, Copper sheathed, commanded by one Hide, has on board thirty-four Men, and is extremely well fitted with Swivels and Small Arms. She cruises between the River Sestro-Crue and Cape Three Points, and has taken between 12 and 14 Shallops, one of which belonged to Governor Brew, and had on board 1200 l. Sterling in Goods, and 50 Ounces of Gold Dust: After taking from her a Cable and Anchor, for which they gave the Master a Receipt, they permitted him to go about his Business. These Fellows neither murder, or force any into their Service; but on the contrary, one of their Crew complaining that he was weary of that Life, they put him on Shore, and allowed him a Sufficiency to bear his Expences to the first English Factory."

NEW YORK, September 15.

The 30th ult. died at Goshen in this Province, Tunis Dolson, in the 101 Year of his Age, being the first Male Person born in this City after it was ceded to the English by the Dutch.

September 22. Captain Kendall, in 16 Days from Halifax, acquaints us, that Admiral Durell arrived there from England, with two Men of War, and four Transports, having the 14th Regiment on board; and that the Admiral died in twenty-four Hours after his Arrival; and that Lord Colvill was also in a dangerous Way when he left the Place.

PHILADELPHIA, October 16.

On Tuesday last the General Assembly of this Province met here, when JOSEPH GALLOWAY, Esq; was chosen Speaker for the ensuing Year.

CHARLES-TOWN, OCTOBER 28.

ON Wednesday last, put in here for a Supply of Provisions, the Brig Tryon, Captain Thomas Maran, from Jamaica for Cape-Fear.—On the 12th Instant, Capt. Maran met with the Schooner Pensacola, William Turner, Master, from the Bay of Honduras for Philadelphia, in the utmost Distress, having lost his Main-Mast, and all his Sails torn to Pieces, by excessive hard Gales of Wind; and the Crew had been near thirty Days in great Want of Provisions having nothing but a Bisket a Day per Man to subsist on.—Captain Turner therefore was obliged to leave his own Vessel, and himself and Crew were taken out of her by Capt. Maran.

On the 15th Instant, Captain Maran saw a Ship ashore on Cape Florida, which he took to be Homeward bound from Jamaica for London.

All the Vessels which have arrived lately, have met with very hard Gales of Wind.

By Advices from Georgia, we hear, that on Monday the 6th Instant, Captain Porter, from Fyal and Pico, in Latitude 34, 20, Longitude 76, 30, about Sunset, spoke a Sloop from New-York, Robert Harris, Master, with Soldiers on board for St. Augustine, which he observed made a Deal of Water, the Wind blowing fresh from the N. E. with a great Sea, but shifted suddenly, and blew very fresh from the S. W. Next Morning he saw her lying to under a balanced Mainsail, the Wind still encreasing; about 12 o'Clock she got under Sail, and bore away to the Northward; and about three Hours after the Wind changing to N. N. W. and blowing very hard, he saw no more of her. Captain Porter is afraid she has met with some Misfortune, as she seemed to be very leaky, and the People were constantly at the Pump.

Saturday last about Twenty Chickesaw Indians came to Town on a Visit we hear to his Excellency the Governor.

About Twelve o'Clock last Sunday Night, the Town was alarmed by the Cry of Fire, which proved to be in the House of Mrs. Stillchurch, in Union-street; but the Night proving very calm, the Flames were in a little Time got the better of by the Activity of the People who managed the Fire-Engines, with the Assistance of the Inhabitants, who at such Times of publick Calamity, are exceeding active in their Endeavours to assist their distressed Fellow-Citizens.

The same Evening arrived here, the Captains Eastwick and Schermerhorn, the former from Philadelphia, and the latter from New-York; but they bring no meterial Intelligence.

In Captain Eastwick came Passenger Mr. Peter Horry.

In Captain Schermerhorn came Passengers Mr. Theodore Gaillard, junior, of this Place, Merchant, Captain George Arthur, &c. and a Detachment of the Royal American Regiment.

DIED.] October 22, in Charles-Town, Robert Hume, Esq; of Goose-Creek.——A Gentleman well known and esteemed, as an honest, benevolent, good Man; in him the Distressed hath lost a most valuable Benefactor, and his Hands were never withheld from doing Good to his Friend, Neighbour, or Stranger; therefore his Death is a publick Loss, and is universally lamented.

October 25. Mrs. Agnes Lind, Milliner.

October 22. At Ponpon, Mr. William Poole, Merchant.

 A few of Dr. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN's Examination before an AUGUST ASSEMBLY, relating to the Repeal of the STAMP ACT, &c. to be sold by CHARLES CROUCH, at his Printing-Office in Elliott-street. Price Five Shillings.
